REPORT To Our Readers - Owners

HANDMADE IN ST. LOUIS

"The purpose of good editorial writing," says an editorial in the St. Louis Labor Tribune, "is to stimulate intelligent thinking, to challenge and provoke debate."

The St. Louis Labor Tribune is one of the papers which come to our desk which always prints handmade editorials, doesn't just reprint without credit editorials from the AFL-CIO News or the American Federationist or some such source One reason the editorials in the Labor Tribune are worth reading is because to a considerable extent they are animated by the spirit expressed in this addi-

"From 20 years of scrutiny of the labor press, we believe there is far more room for debate and disagreement than we find. There is far too much uniformity, far too much indignation wasted on persons and causes who do not deserve it. What we need in the labor press, and the labor movement, too, for that matter, is more 'devil's advocates,' who will arise in a union meeting-and in the labor press for that matter-and be prepared to give sound rebuttal and show enlightened scepticism pertaining to some of the issues at hand."

Rent ... or Own?

No home-buyer wants his family saddled with a mortgage if he dies or is totally disabled.

But what about those who prefer to rent? Rent has to be paid every month even as mortgage payments do. The same principle applies!

WHETHER YOU RENT OR OWN-there's an Occidental policy which provides money to pay the rent (for as long as 50 years), or to pay off the mortgage, in case of your death or total disability. It can also provide a monthly check to pay taxes and other expenses on the house during the readjustment period.

The CIO half of the celebrated family of labor twins certainly contributed an able man to the brains treasury in the person of Ted Silvey, the expert on automation some of is had the privilege of hearing last week through the courtesy of State CIO President Manuel Dias.

A report of Silvey's talk will be found on the first page of this issue of East Bay Labor Journal. But the reporter felt it was impossible to convey in print the combination of knowledge of abstruse theory with knowledge of the practical problems of labor unions which Silvey displayed.

Silvey feels that labor unions which are at all affected by in previous years I thoroughly automation—and it begins to look as though we're all going enjoyed the paper throughout to be affected-will find it necessary to negotiate with management for management-labor committees plant by plant or Cordial wishes for the years industry by industry to consider in close detail the problems which will come up as automation increases. Moreover, he thinks that a new type of trade union specialist will come on Department of Economics the scene, a specialist in automation and in its industrial, economic, and social implications.

Silvey cited some of the problems that come up.

Here's one of them. A man aged 55 comes to work one world, can you purchase so morning and finds that the big complicated multiple-purpose much, for so little, as you re-machine he's been using his great skill to operate for years ceive from the monthly dues is replaced with one which merely asks that the right tape be you invest in maintaining your put on to produce a needed part. Too bad. It seemed like such a good idea. Teach the teachers, so they'd never get any of those wicked ideologies the labor unions are infested with. Then the teachers go and get bored about being taught! But maybe if they rest up for two years they'll be less resistant.

"NIXON went right down the line for the groups that contributed to his fund," the State LLPE Newsletter points out, and goes on to tell how Nixon voted for the interests of the big real estate operators and landlords, and for those of the oil lobby, while he was in Congress. And Drew Pearson reminds us that when Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay gave away that timber loot in the Pacific Northwest to a Mobile, Ala., outfit, it was after the Secretary had received a "Dear Doug" note from the President.
